SUMMARY OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL OPEN MEETING
ON THE SITUATION IN AFRICA

Mr. Chairman, Honourable Ministers, your Excellencies,

We have had a very rich and useful discussion on the situation in Africa. The presentations and discussions held in the course of the two days meeting on Africa can be grouped into the following categories. Firstly, presentations of a general nature that provided a periscope of the situation and problems of the African region, broadly analyzing the situation in Africa in general or in specific sub-regions of Africa such as IGAD, Mano River Union and West Africa, East Africa and the SADC region. A second category of statements dealt with national policies towards Africa. A third category focused on the results of Security Council action in Africa, while a fourth category proposed initiatives that the Security Council could consider taking in the future to improve its activities in Africa. The debate was extremely rich and informative and as such, I would only attempt to summarize recommendations that were made relating to the improvement and strengthening of the Security Council activities in Africa. These recommendations can be grouped into the following three broad categories: 1) Political, 2) Institutional and 3) Operational.

The Political Issues:

- The need for a comprehensive, pragmatic and result-oriented approach to conflict prevention, crisis management, conflict resolution and post-conflict rehabilitation, reconstruction and development, as outlined in the report of the Secretary-General “The Causes of Conflict and the Promotion of Durable Peace and Sustainable Development in Africa” (S/1998/318);
- The effective implementation of the conclusions and recommendations of the UN millennium declaration, especially as it relates to Africa;
- A more proactive role for the Security Council in dealing with conflicts in Africa, notably a firmer commitment, without being selective and on the basis of appropriate forces and resources to meet the realities on the grounds;
- Substitution of a policy of reaction for a policy of conflict prevention;

- Adoption and implementation of a global and integrated approach to the problematic of peace, security and development in Africa at the continental and sub-regional levels, following the example of West Africa;
- In this regard, there is a desire that all peace processes be accompanied by an economic recovery and reconstruction component.
- Strengthening of the multi-dimensional character of peace operations in Africa;
- Support to African countries and organizations in dealing with conflict prevention, management and resolution, especially through the effective reinforcement of their capacities;
- Effective measures to curb the proliferation of small arms, and support for the implementation of the Bamako Declaration, at the continental level, of the ECOWAS Moratorium on small arms and light weapons;
- Support to Africa for the implementation of NEPAD as Africa's own initiative for the development of the people of Africa.
